Tina recommends that clinic participants bring one horse for the full weekend. Her process is a 2-day learning seminar. You are videotaped on the first day and each clinic participant will have private instruction in addition to group instruction. You will review these videos during the lunch hour of your first day in consultation with Tina. On the second day, you will again receive private and group instruction and be videotaped again. Your improvement will be discussed with Tina. Be prepared for a long day – these clinics can last 12 hours each day. You must have a paid reservation.

In case of clinic cancellation due to bad weather all fees will be refunded.
