

Horseback Riding Program 2010

Purpose: The purpose of the IQHA Horseback Riding (HBR) Program is to promote and reward IQHA members for enjoying their American Quarter Horses, and other breeds, outside of the competitive show arena. This is not a competitive program, however, awards will be given to those who accumulate the greatest number of hours in the saddle throughout the year. In addition, “lifetime achievement” recognition will be given to participants who reach benchmark hours.

Divisions: There will be four separate divisions. Two horse divisions: AQHA and Other Breed. Each of these will have two rider categories: Adult (19+) and Youth (18 and under).

Enrollment: In order to participate in the IQHA HBR program, you must have an IQHA (or IQHYA for Youth) membership. In addition, participants must pay an annual enrollment fee of $15. You pay one enrollment fee per division. So, for example, if an adult wanted to register for both AQHA and Other Breeds, they would pay a total of $30, plus membership. However, there is no limit to the number of horses that can be ridden per division under that one fee.

Hours: Once a participant has enrolled in the program, they will receive a welcome letter and hour log sheet(s) from Holly Benton, HBR Chair. Participants are required to log the hours they spend riding their horse, as well as the location. A separate log sheet is required for each horse and/or division.

Awards: The 2010 “season” will run from January 1-October 1. After Oct. 1, participants have until November 1 to submit their completed log sheets to Holly. The participants logging the most hours in each division/rider category will receive year-end awards, similar to the show high-point award recipients.

In addition, “lifetime benchmarks” have been established. Once a rider reaches 50, 100, 250, 500, 750, and 1,000 hours, they will receive a special award from IQHA. Only hours accumulated in consecutive years as an enrolled member will count towards these benchmarks. If an individual chooses not to participate in the HBR Program for a year, all past hours are lost, and they will begin again at their next enrollment with 0 hours.
